What we do

We are a community of travelers and tourism organizations who pick up trash left behind in nature. Together for our planet.

We believe that every small action can have a huge impact if we all do it together.

"We do not pretend to save the world, but we contribute in our way."

Nicolas & Elisabeth, co-founders of My Green Trip

How we do it

1. We empower a community of Green Travelers and Ambassadors
...to clean up nature and raise awareness.
2. We partner with touristic organizations around the world
...to include clean-ups in their outdoor activities with their travelers.
3. We work with travel global players
... to sponsor and create ad hoc partnerships and clean-up projects.

Our clean-up kit

A bag made from recycled boat sails Reusable and washable, it can be attached to a backpack or a belt.

2 garbage bags Made from recycled plastic. They are perfect to pick up dirty and bigger amounts of trash.

Biodegradable gloves Their aim is to avoid having dirty hands. They do not protect from sharp objects.

A brochure

To raise awareness on the littering and information about how to use the kit.

A thank you card Because our green travelers are amazing !

4 mini-flyers Travelers can distribute them to tourism organisations to become partners of My Green Trip.

A postcard It is made from recycled paper. To send to someone we love.

The kit is your travel companion to always pack in your suitcase.

All items are made from recycled materials. The kit is packed in a workshop working with disabled people in Switzerland

Our Green Travelers

- We have a community of about 3,000 Green Travelers who believe in our project.
- They pick up trash in nature, alone with our kit or in group with our partners.
- They take a photo and publish it on Instagram/Facebook using #mygreentrip to inspire and motivate other members of our community to do the same.

What does it mean to become an Ambassador of My Green Trip?

Our Ambassadors are more than Green Travelers. They are green entrepreneurs, globe trotters or creative story tellers who share our vision and help us grow our project.

Here is how you can have a positive impact by joining us as Ambassador:

1. Organize clean-up events to protect your local environment and raise awareness.
2. Help us find new partners to join our movement and have more impact around the world.
3. Share your travel stories and inspire other members of our community.

How does My Green Trip support you as Ambassador?

1. We help you with logistics and marketing support while you take the lead in organizing the event of your choice.
2. We support you with promotional material and put you in contact with our existing partners while you travel and meet amazing green organizations on the way.
3. We provide you with a dedicated publishing space on our website where you can express yourself and be as creative as you want.
